BIRMINGHAM BUILT FOR BUSINESS

Whatever happens around us, we'll always reach for the sky. The next 10 years will see massive investment in a new New Street Station, a world-class library, impressive Magistrates' Courts, runway extension at Birmingham International Airport and the creation of a new state-of-the-art super-hospital.

Birmingham has a proven track record of successful public-private partnerships. And with a funding commitment towards the 10-year transformation of our infrastructure, including an ambitious city centre plan driven by innovation, we're best placed for business.
